With regards to the long awaited Savage Garden videos! Unfortunately, for Australia and New Zealand, we don't have full details of what will be on it yet. It is only in the early planning stages. BUT.. we can say that Roadshow Music will be releasing a video for Australia and New Zealand around Christmas this year that includes previously unseen footage, all of their video clips and an interview with Darren and Daniel. That's all we can say about it at the moment.. SOME OF THESE DETAILS MAY CHANGE!

For the rest of the world, we can say with a fair amount of certainty that Sony will be releasing a video in or around October. Among other things we have heard that it will contain clips of I Want You, To The Moon and Back, Truly Madly Deeply, Break Me Shake Me, Tears of Pearls, and Santa Monica (Hard Rock Live bonus track for Japanese release only). Please remember that these details may also change!

If you are moving, please remember to advise us of your new address and new telephone number as soon as possible. If you fail to do this your next fanzine will be posted to your old address.

Have you ever been on the internet? Chances are that you have, if you haven't, either you live in an area that is too remote to have access or you have spent all your spare time listening to your Savage Garden CD's. Anyway, if you have been on the net, you probably dedicated a large piece of your time online looking up Savage Garden. You may have found some cool sites and interesting facts about the band but never came across anything to do with the fanzine, well, that has all changed. We are all very pleased to announce www.savagegardenfan.com. This is the website for The Official Savage Garden Fanzine.

We have tried to make the site both informative and entertaining for members and non-members alike. On here you will find photos taken from Darren's very own digital camera (that we are unable to print very successfully in the fanzine), hotlinks to the best Savage Garden sites on the web, all our merchandise and membership details. You will have the ability to purchase merchandise, join a friend or even renew your own membership simply by typing in your details and submitting them to us. In the future we may also include some of the overflow artwork and snapshots that our members send in (and there is always overflow).

We consider the website to be in it's infancy and will welcome any suggestions you may have. So check it out and bookmark it as it is sure to be upgraded next time you re-visit it.

RECENT HAPPENINGS

the continuing adventures of savage garden

Well it has been a busy three months for Savage Garden and as you read this issue of your fanzine, they will have just commenced the first real holiday they have had in over two and a half years.

Their concert tour of North America concluded at the Kentucky State Fair on the 29th August, 1998, and although it was 2 months of solid travel on a tour bus, 42 shows, and countless meet and greets with fans, record companies, prize winners, friends of friends etc...etc... both Darren and Daniel have said that it was one of the best times they have ever had, and that they thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

Their first show of the North American tour was in Chicago for the B96 radio show with Boyz to Men and Mariah Carey. After that came Minneapolis, then Canada for four incredible shows in Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver. The Canadian audiences were said to be very cool. Very into the music and very very loud!

Travelling on a tour bus was a first for all of them, and they discovered that it was actually far more luxurious than schlepping about to airports, waiting in departure lounges and flying from one destination to the next. On the bus, they merely finished the show and slept overnight in their bunk beds while their bus driver, Andy, took them to the next destination. Mind you, the tour bus was first class, it had two separate lounge areas, one of which had a tv, video, stereo system and Sony playstation. There were twelve bunk beds, each with their own individual television, and a kitchen that was constantly stocked with food. Picture a semi trailer, and you will probably have the size of it. Darren and Daniel said it was like being members of the Partridge Family, and at times it felt very domesticated ... sometimes, their bus driver even went as far as to prepare their meals!

The tour enjoyed really positive reviews and capacity crowds in venues that seated between 3,000 to 7,000 people. One of the favourite shows for the band was in Las Vegas, where they performed at a venue called THE JOINT, which is situated in the Hard Rock Hotel.

This show had a fantastic atmosphere (especially as the Vegas crowd are not afraid to show how much they are enjoying themselves!), but even more cool, was the fact that the entire show was broadcast simultaneously on the world wide web.

Being in a town in the middle of the desert, with all the fakeness, the money, the theme parks, the opulent hotels, the high rollers, the money...the bankruptcy... and the overall feeling of insanity, every cell in their bodies told them to PARTY... which the members of Savage Garden did, straight after the concert. They all went out dancing and rumour has it that Daniel's mother was actually seen 'shaking her booty' 'til the wee hours of the morning with them! Go girl!

Darren and Anna experienced their scariest moment in Vegas, when they went on 'The Big Shot' ride on the roof of the Stratosphere Hotel. We are talking a near death experience... this is not recommended if you have a fear of heights!

Another show highlight was Red Rocks, Colorado. The setting was amazing, and the weather made for a major part of this. There was thunder and lightning, and Darren, Daniel & the band rubbing shoulders with the Bee Gees.

The whole crew piling out of the privately chartered jet.

Inside the jet.

although it rained the entire show, the 7,000 plus crowd stayed to the end. Darren kept thinking about U2's, 'Under A Blood Red Sky' Live Album, which was recorded there, and he has said that it looked the same as it did all those years ago when he was sitting in his lounge room watching the video of it... playing there was a very big deal for him.

And the tour continued throughout July and August. From Salt Lake City to Detroit, to Washington (where they were made to feel at home when the Australian Embassy visited them at soundcheck and lavished them with gifts from Oz) to Missouri, to Boston, and then to New York. New York is always a city where excitement never sleeps. The first show Savage Garden did there was a private show for the Elite Model Management, and the audience was full of celebrities including Jerry Seinfeld. But, undoubtedly, the highlight of the New York shows was The Beacon Theatre gig.

Billie Myers, who supported Savage Garden throughout their tour, is a good friend of Madonna, and knowing what a huge fan of hers Darren is, she told Madonna that Savage Garden often performed 'Ray Of Light' during their soundchecks. Madonna mistakenly thought that they played 'Ray Of Light' during the actual concert, and had her assistant ring Darren and Daniel's management to ask them at what point in the show they performed it. She said that she had a dinner engagement the night of the Beacon Theatre show, but that she wanted to catch some of it before the dinner, and she wanted to see the part where they performed her song. Well, needless to say, they did a quick rehearsal of the song and inserted it into the acoustic section of the show. Sure enough at 8.00pm Madonna turned up, looking very understated and without a massive entourage, watched Billie Myers and stayed until mid way through the Savage Garden concert when they broke out of 'Promises' and into an impromptu version of 'Ray Of Light'. Darren and Daniel did not meet her, but their production manager told them that she was seen grooving away and enjoying herself. They later found out that she really liked their stripped back version of 'Ray Of Light'.

Their last official performance in the USA was on the season premiere of The Rosie O'Donnell Show (which aired on the 7th September in America). This is the third time they have appeared on Rosie, and this time they sang TO THE MOON AND BACK, which is still going strong in the charts over there. Actually, mid way through the tour, it was announced that Savage Garden's worldwide record sales had hit 8,000,000... not bad for a band who have only released one album!

Aside from performing on the tour, the band did get to have some leisure time. One of their latest obsessions is Golf. Daniel, who is a natural athlete and great at any sport he puts his hand to, became the master of this game and Darren (who tells anyone he speaks to that he doesn't play team sports) was the only one that did not become hooked on golf (or even play for that matter). Daniel has in fact decided that when his career as a pop star ends, he will become a pro golfer. (In his dreams!) Actually, if he doesn't become a pro golfer, he could easily become an Alligator Hunter! We've been told that on their day off in Myrtle Beach, Florida, Daniel and the rest of the band stole a golf buggy and sped around the resort dodging squirrels and trying their hardest to find some alligators. All they discovered were endless signs saying 'ALLIGATORS AND WILDLIFE. PLEASE DO NOT FEED OR TAUNT ALLIGATORS - THEY ARE HARMLESS WHEN

The infamous tour bus.

Another favourite pastime of the band is tenpin bowling. Once again Darren declined to play (stating fashion reasons this time), whilst Daniel proved to all and sundry how many strikes he could make in one game. That's about the extent of the wild lives that this band led on the road.

So, now that the tour has FINALLY ended, after 80 shows and countless countries, Darren and Daniel are relaxing. Daniel is back home in Brisbane working on the recording studio he is having built for himself, and taking some time off to go snow skiing and boating, and Darren has stayed in the USA to party at the MTV Music awards and to have a holiday with some Aussie friends.

In October they will both be in Australia to make an appearance at the 1998 ARIA Awards. Last year they won 10 ARIA Awards, and this year they have been nominated for 4 Awards - BEST AUSTRALIAN GROUP, PRODUCER OF THE YEAR (Charles Fisher - Universe), HIGHEST SELLING ALBUM, and they are the recipients of the 1998 OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT AWARD. The Awards ceremony will be going to air in Australia on Channel 10 on the 20th October.

They have also won an Australian RAWARD (Radio Award) for the MOST PLAYED AUSTRALIAN ACT on commercial radio. This award was accepted by their record company on their behalf on the 12th September.

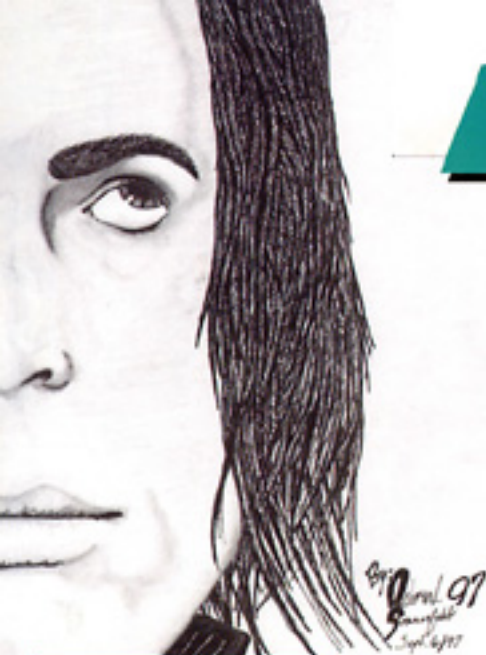

As you all know, they can't wait to start writing and recording the next album - so if all seems quiet over the next few months - don't despair. It just means they are busy putting together the next record for you. We will hopefully have the first single of this record released in March 1999.... and then the promotional and touring rollercoaster starts all over again!

Darren with Billie Myers.

Burst of Bittersweet & Sour

The bitterness blends well with the betrayal of break me shake me.
The feeling of hopeless abandon reaches to the moon & back.
The brooding tune of a thousand words
mingles well,
with the sweet and heartfelt romance of truly, madly, deeply.
The light teasing note of I want you, really sweet, like chic-a-cherry cola.
There are so many places to go Santa Monica, Universe even to the moon & back.
Let Darren and Daniel take you.
There's just about anything on a Savage Garden CD.
Whatever mood you have.
Only, you'll just have to know the colour that you want(violet).
And you shouldn't go making all these promises, you know you cannot keep.

Sheralyn Roque

What More Could Be Said?

What more could be said,
about a band so fine?
With talent so rich,
with music so divine?
What more could be said,
about their attitude to fame?
They treat it so politely,
not conceited but as a game.
What more could be said,
about their roaring?
Each of us hungry lions,
reaching out with hungry hands.
What more could be said,
about a band with such good will?
With the power to give happiness,
to excite and to thrill?
Nothing more can be said,
for perfection is hard to describe.
May this duo remain always,
and keep our dreams alive!

To Darren...

I tried to tell you everything,
On that unforgettable day,
The words came rushing out,
But it wasn't what I wanted to say.
We had our photo taken, and my poster signed,
I smiled at you as emotions flew around my mind.
We spoke of your haircut,
And you laughed in your gorgeous way,
I closed my eyes and wished it could always be this way.
It was the most important thing I had to do,
Oh how it kills me now,
I didn't tell you how much I love you

Lauren Campbell

The Savage Garden

The world is savage garden,
Full of hurt, anger and emptiness.
No-one to turn to when the going gets tough,
Nowhere to look when people are rough.
Then out of the sky came two gogs,
fulfilling their dreams to become stars.
Playing their tunes for all to hear, taking away the hurt, anger, emptiness and fear,
Filling our hearts with happiness and joy,
Darren and Daniel are those two boys.

Lisa Carrello

Sing

Do you sing for me?
Or three million other girls?
You say everything I want to hear
You make me love you
You make me obsess
You make me long for your embrace
You brand your name on my weak, tender heart,
Never coming back to heal the wound
It aches when all hope is gone
Then you sing again and burn my desires.

Breanna Pottinger

To Darren (2)...

I know this might seem stupid,
this might not even seem real.
But how in two words can I say how I feel?
I was totally amazed at the concert that night, and I was totally sad when you went out of sight.
They say you can't love someone as I do,
but I can and will if only you knew.

Thanks To A Thousand Words

I was lost in a pit,
So deep and so dark,
Thought escape was impossible,
Til they ignited a spark.

From that first jolting note,
And the truths they told,
It grew into a flame,
More precious than gold.

My eyes suddenly opened,
My mind cleared of doubt,
Forgiveness prevailed,
Hatred thrown out.

Thank you to the men,
Who helped me to see,
That I can live without him,
Now I'm feeling free.

Amy Whisenhunt

Garden Delite

I remember it a dream,
that seemed to be real,
visions of two angels,
that stood completely still.
One that seemed to melt you,
with just a tender smile,
And the other had a velvet voice,
that made you wanna cry.
Surrounding them were roses,
standing completely strong,
unbending and unyielding,
to prove that they belong.
I was there with them,
for a short amount of time,
but I will never will forget,
the love I felt that night.
The players in my dream,
are finally coming true,
you're forever in my heart,
and I belong to you.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q: How would you feel if an artist wanted to release a remake of one of your songs? (Mike Robertson-QLD)

- Darren: We wouldn't have any control over it - so I guess I'd just have to accept it and hope that they did a good version.

Daniel: There actually has been a Latin American artist who recently released a cover version of 'Truly Madly Deeply' - which has become quite successful there. I think it's an honour to have anyone listen to our music and like it enough to want to play it themselves.

Q: Why was the name of the tour changed in America to 'To the Moon and Back Tour'? (Debbie Sommerfeld-Canada, Ofra Alouni-France.)

Darren: Daniel: To coincide with the release of 'To The Moon And Back' single in the USA.

Q: Everyone goes wild at concerts but what's the craziest, most obsessive lengths a fan has gone to for you? (Jacqui Raadsma-NSW, Orli Aviv-Israel)

Darren: Two fans once bought bootleg backstage passes and posed as friends of the band in Canada. That's about as crazy as it has been!

Q: To Darren: What is your natural eye colour and do you ever wear colour contacts? (Marina Knezevic-TAS, Laura Jasek-NSW)

Darren: Blue - no I've never worn contacts.

(Multiquestions with a similar answer!)

Qs: What are some of the things you are both committed to the most

right now? (Rachel Levy-USA)

When will your next album be out?

(Rebecca Torres-USA, Keely Blackwell-ACT, Samuel Kellerberger-France, Jess Horton-WA, Bridget Jolley-VIC and many more!)

When will the first single off the album be released? (Keely Blackwell-ACT)

What is next for Savage Garden?

(Fiona Mount-NSW)

Daniel: We are planning to go into the recording studio in late 1998 and hopefully we'll have finished the album with a single to release by March 1999... but... don't hold us to that!

Q: Will it be released around the world at the same time? (Caeta Sofia-Portugal)

Daniel: Darren: Yes

Q: To Darren: Do you have any nicknames? (Malin Lundgren-Norway) Why were you given the nickname 'Doze' and what does it mean?

(Genie Capulong-Philippines, Nicola Hebbard-NZ)

Darren: When I was born my father thought I looked like a little bulldozer, apparently I was quite a chubby baby. It was gradually shortened to Doze and Dozer, but really only my immediate family and closest friends call me that - I wouldn't feel comfortable hearing it from anyone else.

Q: What is the significance of the cover on the Australian 'Universe' single. Did either of you design it?

(Sarah O'Leary-QLD)

Does it symbolise anything? (Kate Allen-NSW)

Daniel: There is no significance, other than creative artwork from the Roadshow Music Art department.

They did a couple of samples and this one stood out the most to all of us as being quite cool.

Q: What was your favourite present from a fan? What do you do with all the presents that are given to you? (Elaine Ng-UK, Laura Jasek-NSW)

Darren: As everyone knows I'm a huge Stars Wars fan and I get a lot of toys and figurines and I save and collect every one. WE get so many stuffed toys and animals that sometimes I wish we could encourage our fans to instead spend the money on a charity of their choice even if it was $2.00 rather than throw a stuffed toy on stage that we would very rarely get. That would make me happy if they did that.

Q: Do you write the music and lyrics together, or one and then the other? (Wendy Gowlett-QLD)

Daniel: It happens in various ways, the majority of the time I will come up with instrumental pieces of music which helps to tell the story to Darren who then comes up with the lyrics.

Q: From what I understand, you first started as a cover band. What songs were you covering back in those days? (Tracy Ibarreta-USA)
Was the band called 'Oz Rock'? (Genie Capulong-Philippines)

Daniel: The band was 'Red Edge'. We covered various Aussie rock groups, Midnight Oil, INXS, Mondo Rock, Noiseworks - also various covers from 80s supergroups Prince, Duran Duran etc.

Q: Has working so closely together changed your relationship in any way? (Jess Horton-WA)

Darren: I think we understand each other like family now and we spend less time together socially, but the time we spend together is, I guess, more quality time.

Daniel: Yes I guess it's changed as relationships do and people do. If anything, I think our relationship has become more defined and stronger than ever.

Q: Did either of you take music as a subject at school? (Alicia Mui-QLD)

Darren: I did, but only up until the end of junior high.

Daniel: Yes we both did - I was only a satisfactory music student as I played soccer for most of the year.

Q: To Daniel: How would you describe Darren? (Malin Lundgren-Norway, Gabby Vieyra-USA) and: If you could describe Darren in one word, What would it be? (Jess Horton-WA)

Daniel: Charismatic

Q: What is your favourite car and what colour do you like most? (Mackin Thian Foo Siung-East Malaysia, Jess Horton-WA)

Darren: I'm not really into cars, but I like old ones, or sensible ones. My favourite car at the moment is a Lincoln 1998 town car because that is what we always get picked up in from the airport in America and they are very comfortable.

Daniel: Grand Jeep Cherokee (Deep Green) for my recreational vehicle and for my turn up to the Aria Awards vehicle, I would want a metallic blue Porsche.(ha ha).

Q: What was your favourite subject at school, if any? (Jess Horton-WA)

Darren: Art or English.

Daniel: Maths

Q: Did you have a favourite teacher? (Eva Ortega-Mexico)

Daniel: Yes I did. I always felt she had a crush on me and so because of that, I had a crush on her - her name was Miss Lorraway (since I left school, I have become good friends with her.)

Q: What is the scariest thing in the world to you both? (Jessica McIntosh-NZ, Laura Moore-Canada)

Darren: Death and the "Stratosphere Ride" in Las Vegas!

Daniel: Naturally disasters ie: hurricanes, earthquakes in LA etc.also car crashes or a plane crash!

Q: What is your favourite movie and why? (Laura Jasek-NSW)

Daniel: 'When Harry Met Sally'. Why? ... Meg, of course!

to the moon and back

I'm not sure where to begin in describing the most amazing night of my life. Savage Garden played here in south Florida at Sunrise Musical Theatre on July 27th, a highly anticipated night and one no one in that audience could ever forget.

I arrived two hours early and was so excited to be in the same building as Darren and Daniel it felt as though a million butterflies in my stomach could out any second. For what seemed like an eternity I waited anxiously in the third row for them to appear on stage, and sure enough, as the lights dimmed and fog enveloped the stage, there they were. Ear piercing screams erupted from the audience and the excitement began. Darren, Daniel and their band put forth so much energy during their set I couldn't peel my eyes away for a second. I was in a complete daze, so when they said goodnight and left the stage I was confused and disorientated, thinking, "this can't be it, they haven't even performed Truly, Madly, Deeply". The crowd exploded with shrieks of anxiety, thousands of us begging for one more song. As I watched Darren walk right over to the corner of the stage where I was standing and sit down. "This is it" I thought, I won't get a better chance to give him these roses (one white and one black). I set them next him, not wanting to disturb, his head lowered and he was fiddling with his microphone. As the security guard began pushing me back I saw Darren's eyes shift to the roses and then up to meet mine. With his index finger he motioned for me to come to him. As I stood in front of him he patted the stage next to him for me to sit. Sitting next to him in disbelief, he leaned over and said "thank you", then he stood up and held his hand out for me to stand up with him. We walked to the centre of the stage where we stood facing each other, his back against the audience and he began to sing, putting his arms around me. With his words echoing in my ear, I just held him, overwhelmed with emotional ecstasy. I couldn't believe that I had my arms around Darren Hayes and we were slow dancing on stage as he sang! We slowly pulled apart, my hands were shaking and he took my right hand in his, with our faces inches apart he winked at me and smiled. A smile flooded my face, making me a little less nervous. Hand in hand we walked to the left side of the stage and took a bow, he turned to face me as he sang, paused for a moment, then leaned in and kissed me on the cheek. Frozen in shock, I stared at Darren and then into the audience as he began singing again and a security guard came, helping me off the back of the stage. Climbing through the rows of people, I finally returned to my seat and the tears just began to fall. I have been dreaming of that moment for so long and it actually happened, I wish I could relive that forever. It brings tears to my ears just writing this the day after.

Thank You Savage Garden for sharing with us a night of indescribable excitement and unforgettable bliss, and thank you Darren for making my dreams come true.
